Book Industry Charitable Foundation (Binc) – Providing financial assistance and disaster relief to booksellers and comic shop employees in need, helping keep book culture alive.

ABOUT ~~THE~~ UNEMPLOYED PHILOSOPHERS GUILD

The Unemployed Philosophers Guild traces our origins back to 1990, when two creative and determined brothers from New York, Stephan and David, found themselves grappling with the challenges of making a living.

One night they stumbled upon a unique process that enabled them to make pins and earrings that they successfully sold on the gritty streets of Manhattan.

That initial success led to local stores expressing a keen interest in their products, and prompting requests for an expanded product line. This pivotal moment marked the beginning of our journey from selling on the streets to our present day “Ivory Tower.”

As demand for their distinctive creations grew, the proceeds funded the brothers' graduate studies and also allowed them to pursue their artistic aspirations. For Stephan, it meant delving into the world of philosophy, while David became a historian and filmmaker.

In 1992, Stephan named the enterprise the Unemployed Philosophers Guild, a nod to the realization that making a livelihood as a philosopher was unlikely. “Spinoza was a lens grinder,” he would often say.

Thirty-four years after the two brothers started making pins and earrings in their mother's kitchen, the Unemployed Philosophers Guild stands proudly as a group of artists, writers, philosophers, and unconventional thinkers, forging ahead with creativity and resilience. Today, the Guild is comprised of ten creative people who bring their unique passions and energies to creating gifts for your stores!

MARSHA P. JOHNSON SECULAR SAINT CANDLE

American social activist, organizer, and performer Marsha P. Johnson lived a conspicuous life; she used feminine pronouns, wore flowers in her hair, and once told a judge her middle initial stood for “Pay It No Mind.” She cared for homeless child Sylvia L. Rivera. Later they formed Street Transvestite Action Revolutionaries (STAR) and opened a shelter for trans/gay people – especially at-risk youth of color. The Secular Saint Candle pays tribute to Marsha, whose energy, enlightenment, and humor elevated the world; without her, this would be a lesser place to live and let live large.

Do you know this woman?

On December 1, 1955, the “Matriarch of the Civil Rights Movement” was jailed for defiance of unjust laws. Principled and soft-spoken, this long-time activist risked safety, life, and livelihood protesting segregation.

Of course you do!

Rosa Parks joined countless patriots before her, such as Claudette Colvin, Aurelia E. S. Browder, Susie McDonald, and Mary Louise Smith – not to mention, a century earlier in NYC, Elizabeth Jennings Graham (with her lawyer and future U.S. President, Chester A. Arthur). Justice requires brave citizens to fight for the Land of the Free.

It's all who you know.

All Magnetic Personalities include a tag with brief bio, important dates and a thoughtful introduction to one of our original thinkers and cultural icons. Why not surround yourself with Magnetic Personalities? Get to know real characters — and people of real character.

A PUPPET ON YOUR FINGER

ROSA PARKS
February 4, 1913 - October 24, 2005

"No, the only tired I was, was tired of giving in."

The modern civil rights movement dates to December 1, 1955, when Rosa Louise McCauley Parks, a seasoned activist and secretary for the NAACP, refused to give up her seat (to a white man) on a bus in Montgomery, Alabama. Her ensuing arrest led to a 381-day bus boycott that resulted in the desegregation of public transportation in the South and the rise of local preacher Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. to international prominence. Parks remained an activist to the end of her life.

EDGAR ALLAN POE

January 19, 1809 – October 7, 1849

"The boundaries which divide Life from Death are at best shadowy and vague. Who shall say where the one ends and where the other begins?"

NOTABLE QUOTE

SIGNIFICANT DATES

A lifetime of disappointment, illness, poverty, and mental anguish fed the dark genius of Edgar Allan Poe. His classic horror stories, such as The Tell-Tale Heart and The Cask of Amontillado, helped define the genre, and his haunting poem of love lost, The Raven, is among the most famous in the world. Poe is the father of the modern short story and the detective story, as well as an early innovator of science fiction.

THE PULP TAROT

Tarot decks were 15th century playing cards – later tools for divination. Pulp magazines peaked with Depression-era longing for escapism – living on in modern forms and genres. Both Pulp and Tarot are sources of stories that stir primal responses – love and bravery, fear and happiness, suspense and surprise – to give us a chance to reimagine ourselves. The Pulp Tarot recasts the Tarot deck with characters from the history of pulp illustration. Each member of this new ensemble brings a fresh POV, unexpected insight... What thrilling sense of discovery will this unique collection bring to your narrative? #5735

THE HORROR TAROT

The Horror Tarot reimagines the traditional Tarot, with 78 unique cards set in the world of horror comics and illustration, horror movies, fan magazines, and paperbacks. Whether divination or revelation, each Tarot reading is an invitation to hours of engagement – on your own or in the company of friends. #5829

THE SCI-FI TAROT

But tell me, what did you come down to Netherfield for? Was it merely to ride to Longbourn and be embarrassed? Or had you intended any more serious consequences?

Jane Austen Lovers

A NOTEPAD WITH FOUR UNIQUE PAGE DESIGNS

Mr. Darcy Elizabeth Bennet

Pride & Prejudice

It is not time or opportunity that is to determine intimacy; - it is disposition alone. Seven years would be insufficient to make some people acquainted with each other, and seven days are more than enough for others.

Colonel Brandon Marianne Dashwood

Sense & Sensibility

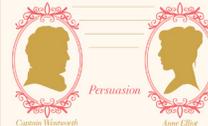

I'll love you less, I might be able to talk about it more. But you know what I am - You have nothing but truth from me - I have blamed you, and lectured you, and you have borne it as no other woman in England would have borne it - I have been a very unattractive lover - But you understand me - Yes, you see, you understand my feelings - and will return them if you can. At present, I ask only to hear, once to hear your voice.

Mr. Knightley Emma Woodhouse

Emma

I can listen no longer in silence. I must speak to you by such means as are within my reach, you gave my soul, I am half agony, half hope. - I offer myself to you again with a heart even more your own than when you almost broke it, eight years and a half ago. Dare not say that man forgets sooner than women, that his love has an earlier death. I have loved none but you. I signed I may have been weak and resentful I have been, but never unconstant.

Captain Wentworth Anne Elliot

Persuasion

JANE AUSTEN LOVERS

The Jane Austen Lovers Notepad stars four pairs of paramours - from Pride and Prejudice, Sense and Sensibility, Emma, and Persuasion - with quotes from the novels, as well as charming silhouettes of four couples - heroines who hold out for love, brooking disappointment with humor, intelligence, and conviction... and the leading men who prove themselves worthy..

ALCHEMY

Alchemy facts and features tag text:

Alchemists tried to concoct the Elixir of Life (for immortality) and to transform base metals into gold (for profit), but they also pursued knowledge and perfection — physical as well as spiritual. In fact, respected intellectuals engaged (sometimes secretly) in Alchemy:

- Isaac Newton, a Father of Classical Physics
- Robert Boyle, the First Modern Chemist
- Antoine Lavoisier, the Father of Chemistry
- Swedish playwright August Strindberg

History was written by modern Philosophy, Medicine, Physics, and Chemistry — but they are all indebted to Alchemy.
